NBM requested IMF's technical assistance on monetary policy

Nils Oeyvind Maehle, a Senior Economist with the IMF Monetary and Capital Markets Department, payed a working visit to the National Bank of Moldova (NBM) on September 28-29, 2017. Mr. Maehle had several meetings with the Moldovan central bank Executive Board's members and representatives of the Monetary Policy Department.

Discussions focused on the assessment of NBM's monetary policy operational framework, its development and fundamentals, and also on identifying potential areas for technical assistance. Following the visit to Chisinau, the IMF experts will elaborate a working plan, which might be launched next year.

During the working mission, Nils Oeyvind Maehle organized a training course on inflation forecasting and inflation-targeting policies aiming at familiarizing the members of the Executive Board with the latest international practices and models, including the ones applied in the Central and Eastern Europe region..
